Activities in Bern City

Activity 1: Bern for History Lovers

Thanks to the medieval and well-preserved townscape, the Old Town of Bern was entered into UNESCO's listing of World Heritage Sites in 1983. Take the opportunity to discover the Old Town of Bern with a local guide.

UNESCO World Heritage Site

The capital of Switzerland has many charms. Its quaint Old Town is framed by the Aare river and offers spectacular views of the Alps. With its 6 km of limestone buildings and medieval arcades, its Renaissance fountains with colourful figures, and its beautiful cathedral surrounded by picturesque rooftops, Bern founded in 1191, is truly a gem of medieval architecture in Europe.

Allow yourself to be taken on a guided tour of discovery through the Old Town of Bern and discover the most beautiful as well as some unknown sights of the Swiss capital. Visit the first western city gate (1218-1256) of Bern's Old Town. The Clock Tower (Zytglogge) dates from the time of the first city expansion phase. Discover medieval technology and enjoy the performance of the clockwork figures and the elaborate workings of the astronomical clock.

Activity 2: Bern for Water Lovers

In summer, allowing yourself to float downriver in the cool water is one of the most unforgettable highlights of a stay in the Swiss capital. Take the chance and experience the unique urban swimming in Bern.

Marzili river pool
Marzilistrasse 29
CH-3005 Bern

When the sun comes out, hundreds of Bern locals head to the Aare river for a swim or river rafting while the impressive UNESCO World Heritage Site Old Town looks down on them from high above. The cool, deep-blue, clean water of the Aare river, which winds its way into the city from the Bernese Alps, offers optimum refreshment on hot summer days.

Since 1782, the Marzili is the largest and most frequented river pool in Switzerland. Bathers have enjoyed swimming in the “academic swimming baths,” as the Marzili used to be called, for 700 years. This tradition survives to the present day, and while above the Marzili the colorful city life pulsates, the clear water of the Aare river provides a refreshing bathing experience, totally free of charge.

Attention: Bathing in the river is reserved for skilled swimmers only!

Visit the Gelateria di Berna, the most popular ice cream shop in town, and try some delicious but unusual tastes.

Its creations, freshly prepared every day, range from classic delights such as vanilla to exotic temptations like raspberry with ginger.
